A diagram of a horizontal beam with two sensors labeled 'LEM' hanging from it. Above the beam, there are two circular markers labeled '24' and '28'. Ellipses on the beam indicate it extends beyond the shown section.

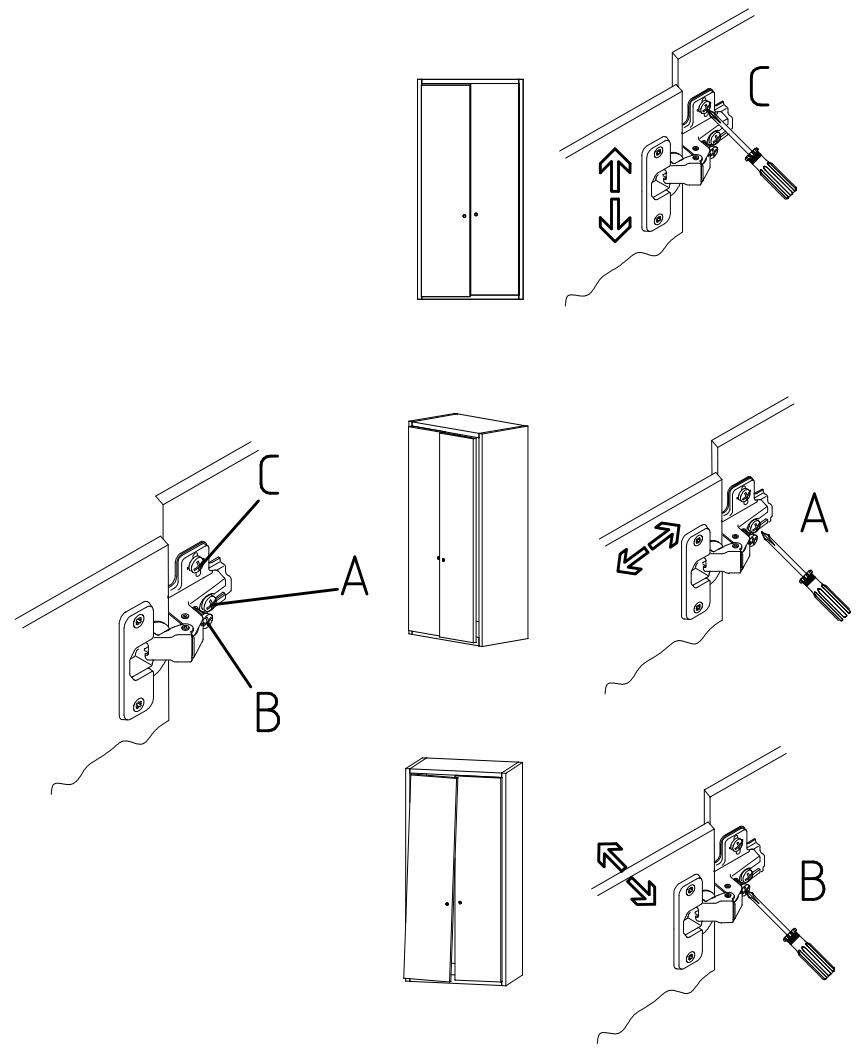

Ø 5mm

This diagram shows the internal structure of the wardrobe with the door open. Two large black arrows point to the locations where the hanging rail and shelf should be installed. The hanging rail is shown as a horizontal bar with a hook, and the shelf is shown as a flat rectangular board. The internal structure includes a vertical support rail with multiple holes for adjustment, and a horizontal support rail with a hook. The door is shown in an open position, revealing the internal components.
